

Researching physical media (books) with the Macromedia Catalog

1. Access the discovery system (Macromedia Catalog) via the library homepage.
2. Perform a search, e.g. "social science".
3. The location filters are decisive. When a location is selected, only the physical holdings (books) of the selected location are displayed. If the desired location is not listed, it can either be found under "Show more" or there is no literature on the searched topic at your campus.

The screenshot shows the Macromedia Catalog search interface. The search term "social science" is entered in the search bar. The results page displays a "RESEARCH STARTER" for "Social science" and a list of search results. The first result is a book titled "Doing social science : evidence and methods in empirical research / edited by Fiona Devine and Sue Heath". The second result is an academic article titled "Where Do Latinas and Latinos Earn Social Science Doctorates?".

On the left side, there are filters for "Current Search", "Limit To", and "Materialart". The "Materialart" filter is expanded to show "Location" options: München (43), Hamburg (30), Köln (30), and Stuttgart (29). A red arrow points to the "Stuttgart (29)" option.

4. By clicking on the title, additional information about the selected book is displayed.

Among other things, you can find a summary, a link to the table of contents and the signature, which indicates the book's shelf space (the signature is also already visible in the results list).

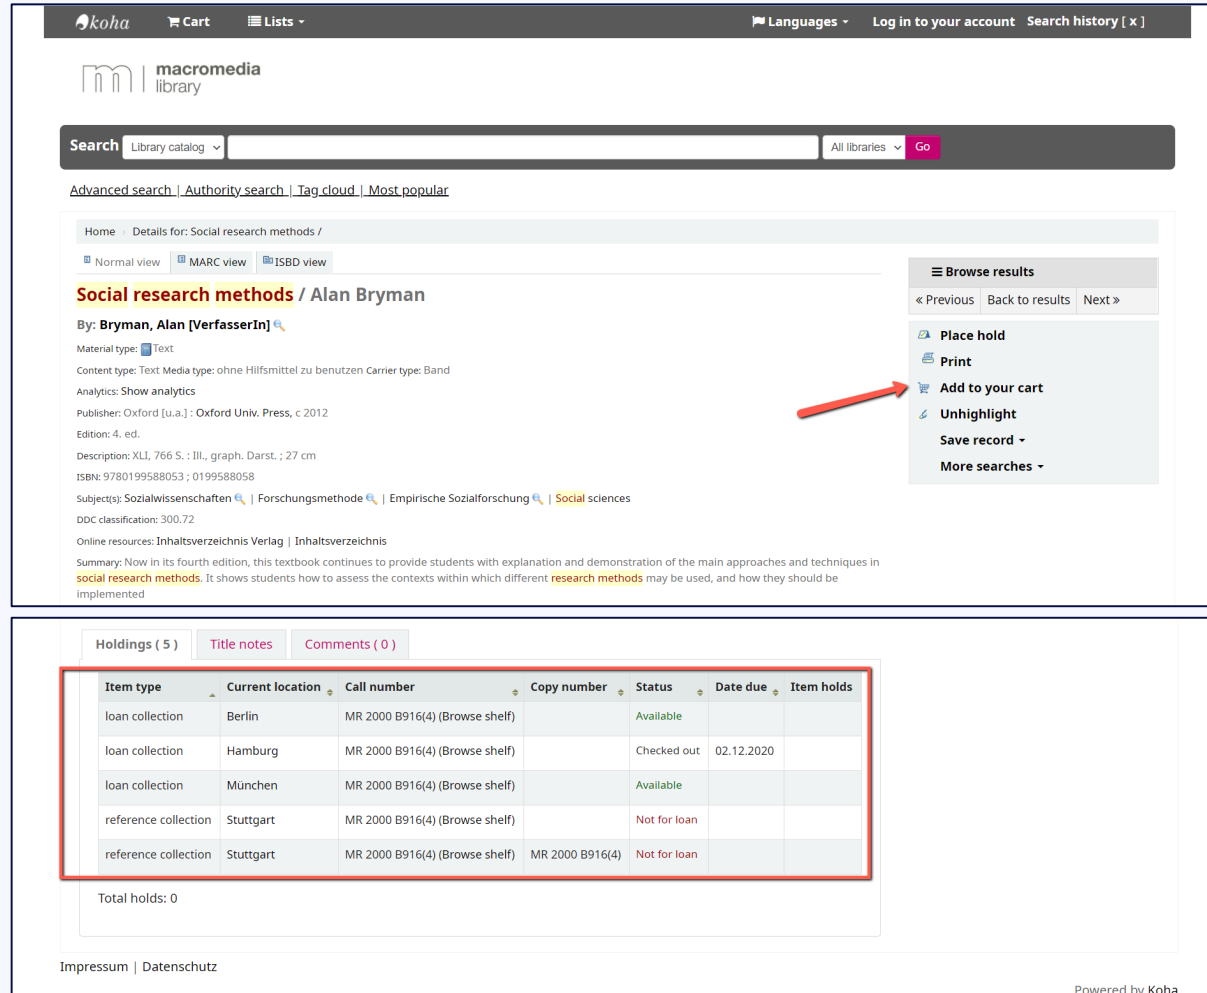

5. To reserve the selected book via the shopping cart or to check the availability (loan stock vs. reference stock) please click on "Abrufen der Katalogposition" (as marked with the lower arrow in screenshot 2 for step 4).
