

Register for remote access to Statista

1. call up the homepage at www.statista.com.
2. click on "My Account" and "Register".

The screenshot shows the Statista website homepage. The top navigation bar includes the Statista logo, a 'My Account' dropdown menu, and various navigation links like 'Statistics', 'Reports', 'Outlooks', 'Company DB', and 'Infogr'. The main content area features the headline 'Empowering people with data' and a search bar. The 'My Account' dropdown menu is open, showing options like 'Product-type: Campus License International', 'Change user', 'Register', 'Administration', 'Help Center', and 'Logout Group'. A pink arrow points to the 'My Account' button, and another pink arrow points to the 'Register' option in the dropdown menu.

3. fill in registration form.

Use your Macromedia e-mail address for this purpose. Note that you select "Academic".

4. confirm account.

5. activate account.
